Residência RP Pediátrica
Publicação Oficial da Sociedade Brasileira de Pediatria

Submitted on: 09/25/2023
Approved on: 09/26/2023

EDITORIAL

Editorial

Márcia G. Alves Galvão[1]

Dear readers,

It is with great enthusiasm that we present another edition of Residência Pediátrica Magazine, dedicated to sharing the most recent advances and experiences, as well as promising perspectives in the field of our specialty.

We continue to present a selection of articles that reflect the diversity and vitality of current Pediatrics. The published articles discuss issues of interest to those dedicated to primary care, the care of hospitalized patients and seriously ill children, without leaving aside the possible repercussions on adults of the care provided to children. We are proud to continue to serve as a platform for the exchange of knowledge and experience between pediatricians, researchers, students and doctors in training.

Success in pediatric practice depends on a collaborative approach and the incessant search for the best care for children and adolescents. As we move forward, we invite everyone involved in Pediatrics to share and publicize their investigations and everyday experiences. It is through these connections that we will continue to improve the quality of life for future generations.

We thank all authors, reviewers and readers for making Residência Pediátrica a reliable and valuable reference.

Good reading!

[1]Additional editor of journal Residência Pediátrica. Deputy editor of Residência Pediátrica magazine. PhD in Medicine (Child and Adolescent Health) from the Federal University of Rio de Janeiro (UFRJ).

Correspondence to:
Márcia G. Alves Galvão.
Brazilian Society of Pediatrics (SBP). Rua Santa Clara, nº 292, Copacabana, Rio de Janeiro/RJ, Brazil. CEP: 22041-012. E-mail: marciagnet@gmail.com

Resid Pediatr. 2023;13(3). DOI: 10.25060/residpediatr- 2023.v13n3-0

This work is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License.