ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Acknowledgement to Guest Editors

The perplexity brought about by the Covid-19 Pandemic for the whole of humanity forced the biological sciences to expand its knowledge in several areas. Biomedical journals have published numerous articles at an unprecedented rate. During the AIDS epidemic the buildup of knowledge was also enormous, but at that time, there was no Internet and the scientific update was slower.

The Pediatric Residency Journal engaged in the dissemination of knowledge about the Pandemic, opening space for a Special Edition, which was called in June 2020 to provide access to innovations or coping practices vis-à-vis Covid-19. We were rewarded for sending more than 80 manuscripts for the Special Edition.

Our thanks to the Guest Editors; Professors Dirceu Solé and Maria de Fátima Pombo Sant´Anna deserve to be acknowledged on this opportunity. Both reviewed papers in record time, endeavored to maintain the editorial quality of the PRJ and made evident the collective effort to keep Pediatrics up to date, although fortunately, children have less morbidity than other population groups.

Our gratitude for working for science to our dedicated guest Editors!
